For our final Topic this year we will be learning about the physical and human geography of France and comparing and contrasting Paris with London.

We will be thinking about the big question: Bonjour or au revoir?

Research
	Your task is to produce a non- chronological report on France: include information on the following: • How big is it? • What are the major cities? • What is the climate like? • What is the largest river? • What is the highest mountain? • What are the famous landmarks? Here are some websites you might find useful: https://www.natgeokids.com/uk/discover/geography/countries/facts-about-france/ https://www.kids-world-travel-guide.com/france-facts.html https://www.coolkidfacts.com/france-facts/
Creative	Paris is regarded as the world's fashion capital as many of the biggest names in fashion design come from France. One of the most famous French designers was Coco Chanel. She not only designed clothes, but also jewellery, handbags and fragrances. She became one of the first women fashion designers to create simple and practical clothes for the sporty women of the time. Your task: Bonjour. Je m'appelle Amandine. I am a French clothes designer and I need your help. I would like you to design a new outfit which my French design team can make and display at my fashion show. Draw your designs over the template provided and then label the picture with French words for clothes and colours (they have to be in French so my designers will understand them). Please see attached documents for template and French vocabulary ideas. French: Design an Outfit

Bonjour. Je m'appelle Amandine.
I am a French clothes designer and I need your help. I would like you to design a new outfit which my French design team can make and display at my fashion show.

Draw your designs over the template provided and then label the picture with French words for clothes and colours (they have to be in French so my designers will understand them).

Use a dictionary if you need help. You could design a dress, a suit, jeans and T-shirt... the choice is yours.
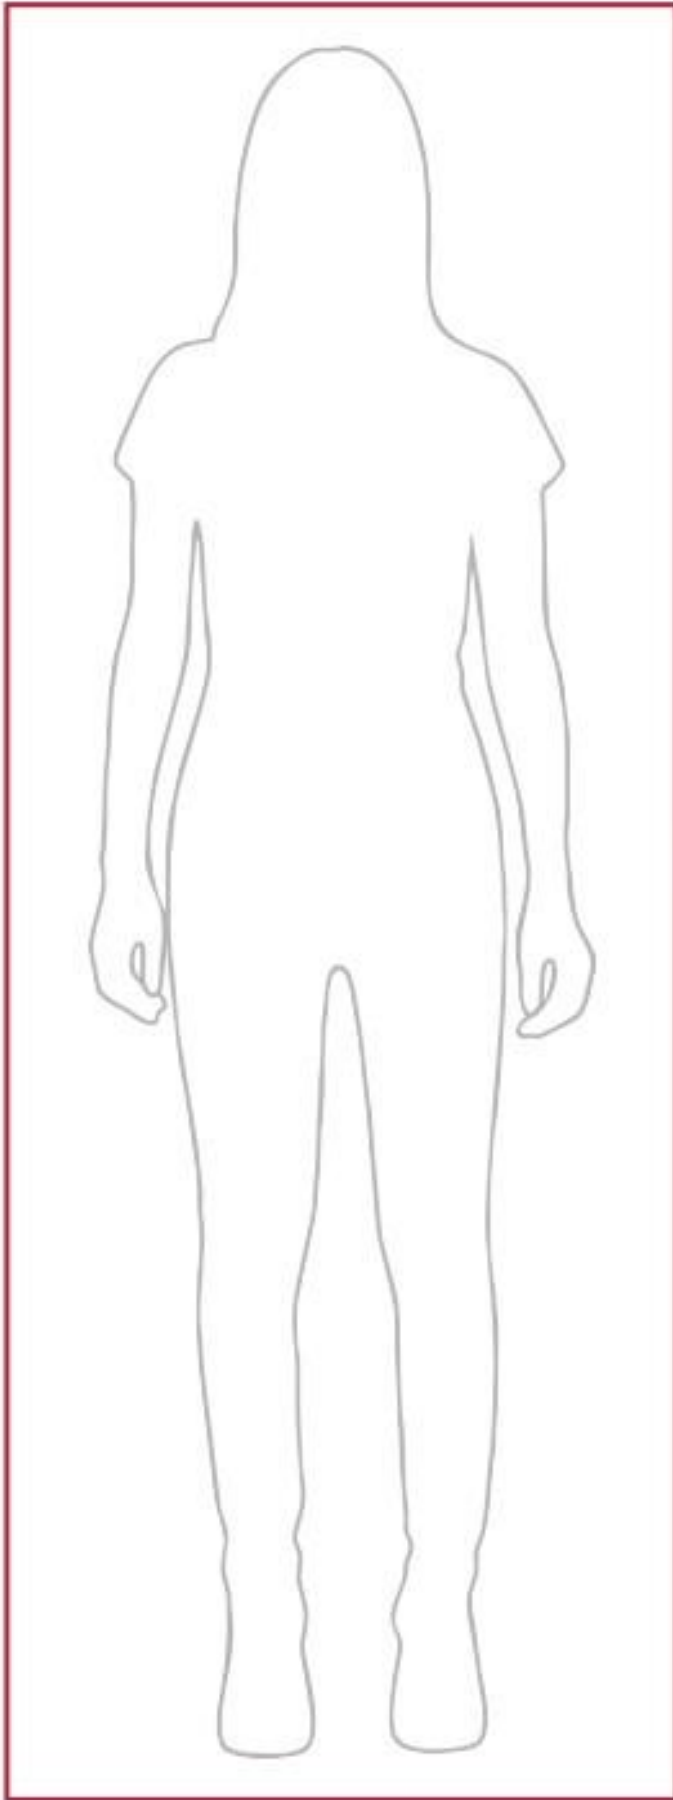

Have fun!

Merci beaucoup.

All activities must be completed by Tuesday 12th July.
